The sun sunbed, the archetype par excellence of outdoor furniture, interprets all the elements that characterise the aesthetics of the Timeout Collection, re-proposing the theme of the burnished painted Aluminum band, running along the entire profile, and the traditional motif of the polypropylene rope weave. The backrest allows for different reclining positions. Guell may be made entirely of solid teak slats, with the recognisable interwoven pattern or covered with the new Batyline fabric. The wooden slats are the same width as those of the 6- or 8-seater table, supporting that refined interplay of dimensional recurrences that links the products of the same collection or between the two families of outdoor furniture. The sunbed is lightweight and can be easily moved thanks to the wheel fitted to the backrest. To ensure maximum safety, the wheel is positioned barely suspended, being activated only when the sunbed is raised. This is one of the many details that underlines the design precision of the Collection.
